Mishaps Costly

BY WAYNE BOARD

Majority of accidents on 23rd Street here since January of this year were due either to left-turn violations or rear-end collisions, Canyon Police Department records show.

A hassle erupted at a City Commission meeting here last week involving whether left-turn indicators would be installed at Second, Fourth and Fifth Avenues on 23rd Street, the major highway through Canyon.

City fathers approved purchase of about $1,000 worth of turn indicators earlier this year, but reversed their decision last Monday with Mayor Paul Lindsey abstaining from casting a ballot.

About 35 businessmen confronted the commissioners and asked that no left-turn lanes be installed as the action would eliminate parking in front of some stores on the streets in question.

Feeling among businessmen is that widening of Fifth and Third Avenues, which is currently under way as part of the summer paving program, would help eliminate the congested traffic near 23rd Street.

Some of the business representatives said they felt the use of left-turn indicators would not eliminate what is termed "fender benders" on 23rd Street.

CPD records show there have been 56 accidents at 23rd Street and the three avenues from Jan. 1 through May 31 and a total of nine people sustained injuries in the crashes.

Property damages were estimated by law enforcement officers at $17,822, or an average of $318.25 per collision.

On Second Avenue there were 17 accidents and two injuries, plus a property damage of $6,580 for the crashes. Records indicate nine of the wrecks were attributed to turning violations and eight to rear-end collisions.

Candidate To Be Here Next Week

Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for governor, will visit Canyon Thursday, July 18th as part of a campaign bus tour through the Panhandle.

Eggers is expected to be in Canyon 8:00 to 8:30 a.m. He will meet people around the downtown business district.

"I'm looking forward to meeting people in all walks of life and discussing with them the major problems that confront our state," Eggers said.

The GOP candidate is a 49-year-old tax attorney who has practiced law in Wichita Falls since graduation from the University of Texas School of Law in 1948. He is chairman of the Taxation Section of the State Bar of Texas and a member of the American Bar Association.

In 1966 he received a Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary Award for former athletes who have achieved successful careers.

Transplant Patient Is Improving

Improvement has been reported for Mrs. J. V. Martin of Canyon who underwent a corneal transplant operation June 29 at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Although the eye is dilated, Mrs. Martin reports that she can see light and objects briefly when the eye-patch is removed for medication.

She is expected to be released from the hospital soon.

Couple Stranded South Of Border

A German bride of less than a year learned Tuesday that the US Immigration Service has a heart.

Unaware that she was violating provisions of her visitor's visa, Mrs. Barbara Heinze Lawson, wife of Terry Lawson of Canyon, walked across the international bridge at El Paso into the Republic of Mexico last Friday.

When she and her husband, along with two relatives, returned to the port of entry four hours later, Mrs. Lawson was told she could not re-enter the United States.

The Lawsons were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kinker who had been visiting in Canyon from Washington. The excursion to El Paso was begun as a holiday lark to give Barbara a chance to see Mexico. She came to this country last fall to become the bride of young Lawson whom she met while he was serving with an artillery outfit in her native Germany.

The foursome left here the night of July 4 and drove all night to El Paso. They first drove across the border into Juarez and stayed about a half hour.

They crossed back into this country, that time without incident. Back in El Paso they rented motel rooms and then crossed the border again, this time on foot, to do some sight seeing in Juarez.

They stayed about four hours.

Mrs. Lawson is a dark-haired beauty. She speaks English with an accent and to customs officials she undoubtedly had the appearance of being a Mexican national.

Anyway, attention was focused upon her at the port of entry and she pointedly was asked her nationality. "German," Mrs. Lawson answered truthfully.

The distraught young woman and her husband were told that she had violated the terms of (See COUPLE, Page 7)

Adams-Marsh Buy FN Stock

All the stock of the voting trust which controls First National Bank in Canyon has been purchased by a partnership to be known as Randall County Investment Company.

The deal, which has been in progress for more than a month, was finally consummated late last week, according to W.E. "Bill" Adams, bank president.

Adams and Stanley Marsh III, an Amarillo financier, are partners in Randall County Investment Company.

Although he declined to reveal the exact amount, Adams said something over $1 million was involved in the stock purchase.

The bank president said there will be no change in the officers and directors of the bank.

Adams became president of First National Bank in January of 1967. He was associated with A. W. Lair, Dale Williams, Jack Taylor and the late Hosea Foster in ownership of the voting trust which controlled First National Bank.

First National Bank has experienced rapid growth during the year and a half that Adams has been here.

Marsh is interested in the ownership of KVIL, Channel 7, television station in Amarillo, real estate and other holdings. He is a member of a prominent Amarillo family.

WT Beauty Is Seeking State Title

Carol Cutbirth, a student at West Texas State University from Sweetwater, will be competing Wednesday through Saturday in the Miss Texas Beauty Pageant in Fort Worth.

The finals will be televised next Saturday and the winner will be entered in the Miss America Contest in Atlanta in August, according to Don Dorsey, local adjutant for McDonald-Hager American Legion Post 109 in Sweetwater.

Miss Cutbirth is the current Miss American Legion of Texas, a title she won last summer in Dallas at the American Legion State Conventions Beauty Pageant. She has attended many district and state meetings as a guest speaker.

She is being sponsored in the Fort Worth contests by the State Department of the American Legion.

A sophomore student at WTSU and a 1967 graduate of Sweetwater High School, she was a member of the Big Red Mustang Band, four years twirler, one of which she was head twirler.

She was a class favorite for two years, Homecoming queen, Year Book queen, downtown Lions Club queen, FFA local and district sweetheart, named Miss Sweetwater in the Golden Year Fashion Revue in Abilene and sponsored by the Lions Club of Abilene and was first runner up in the Rattlesnake Round-Up sponsored by the Jaycees.

Miss Cutbirth is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha at WTSU, was freshman cheerleader, was recently elected by student body as second-year cheerleader to the varsity football and basketball teams and was an officer of Cousins Hall.

She is majoring in elementary education and her favorite sports are skiing, swimming, hunting, tap dancing and music.

A member of the First Baptist Church, Miss Cutbirth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cutbirth in Sweetwater.

Rains Harry Campers In Palo Duro

About 125 campers were in Palo Duro Canyon State Park Sunday evening when rains blocked several water crossings and stranded the visitors.

Park Superintendent Jerry Mullick said most of the campers, who had made it to safety Monday morning, were planning to stay in the park. No injuries were reported.

Mullick said three couples of picnickers were stranded beyond one of the water crossings with a three-week-old baby but were rescued about 1:30 a.m. Monday.

He said members of the Randall County Sheriff's Department brought milk to the wife at the park headquarters. She in turn prepared a formula for the infant which was taken to the stranded tourists.

Rains in the canyons totaled (See RAINS, Page 7)

Tax Committee Action Delayed

Randall County commissioners court has delayed action on appointment of a tax study committee.

County Judge Carroll Brown said several proposed members have been contacted but have not had sufficient time to signify willingness to serve.

The committee will be made up of seven persons, three of whom will be appointed by the judge and one by each of the four commissioners. The committee must be confirmed by the court as a whole.

The name of only one committee member has been made public so far. Tom Dawkins, Amarillo developer, was appointed by Commissioner B. R. Jones. Jones had opposed formation of the committee on grounds that

Hand Surgery For Local Lass

The eight and a half year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Kraus of Canyon is recovering at home following a three-hour surgery at Amarillo's St. Anthony's Hospital this week.

Sharon Annette Kraus received an operation on her right hand to repair a severed tendon which was damaged May 25 as she fell from her bicycle onto broken glass.

A member of the family, who said Sharon's hand would be in a cast for about a month, said the operation was complicated because the tendons in her hand had shrunk and grafting was necessary.

Dr. Smallwood Receives Honor

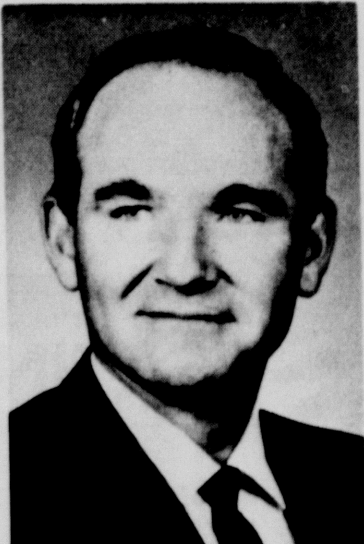

The "Man of the Year Award in Texas Agriculture" for 1968 has been recently awarded to the head of the Department of Agriculture at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Dr. Charles Smallwood, a former county extension worker, is one of six prominent agriculturists named to receive the award from the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association.

Dr. Smallwood will be presented with his award at the TCAAA convention August 4-6 in Abilene.

The award recognized contributions to improving levels of living and economic progress in communities, according to Elwyn L. Dysart, Hartley County agent and president of the TCAAA.

A native of Oklahoma, Dr. Smallwood is a graduate from Oklahoma State University where he received the bachelor of science degree in animal science in 1949. He received his Ph.D. from Texas A & M University a few years later.

where he supervised several state and national 4-H winners. He became the head of the Agriculture Department at Murray State Agriculture College in Oklahoma, and while serving there the number of agriculture majors was tripled.

A six-fold increase in agriculture majors has been noted under the leadership of Dr. Smallwood during his ten years at West Texas State University. He is also a worker for county 4-H members and has assisted with 4-H by judging area and county livestock shows and helping area county agents with 4-H programs by holding practice judging contests at WTSU. The District 1 4-H elimination contests are held on the campus and Smallwood makes arrangements for facilities and has members of his department assisting with the contests.

At the 1968 4-H Roundup held at Texas A & M early in June, Dr. Smallwood was honored by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation for his contributions to 4-H work.

Dr. Smallwood has also established and supervised a Swine Testing Center in Canyon along with being a member of the Canyon and Amarillo Chambers of Commerce, the Randall County Livestock Association, Randall County Sheriff's posse, the Canyon Lions Club, and the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

Merchant Committee Is Formed

About 20 Canyon businessmen gathered Monday evening to form an association composed primarily of merchants near 23rd Street.

The group, chaired by Charlie Donnell, passed a resolution thanking the Canyon City Commission for their action last week that rescinded a previous motion which would allow the installation of left-turn indicators of Second, Fourth and Fifth Avenues on 23rd Street.

The resolution also included a promise by the group to help city officials solve the traffic problems arising on 23rd Street.

Many of the association members met last week with city dads requesting that no left-turn indicators be installed as the action would eliminate several parking spaces in front of the business establishments near 23rd Street.

City commissioners, who had earlier approved specifications and authorized City Manager Paul Davis to order the devices, rescinded their previous action and said they would call for an independent traffic survey this fall when West Texas State University classes are in session.

Mayor Paul Lindsey, who opened (See MERCHANT, Page 7)

Statistics prepared by the "TEXAS"-sponsoring Panhandle Heritage Foundation indicate about six thousand people representing various parts of the U. S. and five foreign countries have attended the musical drama in Palo Duro Canyon State Park thus far this year.

Triangles, which honor the guests from the greatest distance each evening, have been presented to representatives of England, Germany, Switzerland, Australia and Nepal.

Statistics also indicate that 55 per cent of the audiences drove more than one hundred miles to see the production and half of these came from outside the state of Texas.

The show, that opened June 29 and will continue through Labor Day, Sept. 2, has been rained out twice this season.

Records also show 1,700 people have been served barbecue before the show.

Foundation officials have asked that those attending the production be in their seats by 8:45 p.m. for the overture.

Deposits Soar In Local Banks

Bank deposits indicate that Canyon is taking on economic muscle at a rapid rate.

The June statements of banking institutions show deposits at a whopping record high of $16,090,323.77. This is an increase of $4,056,469.76 over the figures shown on the banks' statements of condition a year previous.

First National's statement shows an increase in deposits for the past year of 26 percent, or $2,761,981.34. First National President W. E. "Bill" Adams said the bank's deposits had jumped to $14,108,000 at the close of business Monday of this week.

The institution's deposits at the close of business June 30 were $13,465,214.58 as compared to $10,703,233.24 of the year previous.

Equalization Meetings Set

The City of Canyon's Tax Equalization Board will be in session from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Saturday and from 7 until 9 p.m. Monday at the City Hall.

Tax Assessor-Collector Rankin Eisenberg said there was no general increase in taxes but some increase because of new business establishments here.

Total assessed value of real estate on the tax rolls is about $12,750,000, Eisenberg said.

Those on the equalization board are Dr. Burwell Southern, Dr. W. J. Wooten and Bernard Warren.

LARGE GRANITE SLABS were being lifted by a device on this truck when the load became overbalanced and turned the vehicle on its side. The accident occurred Tuesday at the construction site of the Randall County Annex here. Workmen said little damage was done to the truck but construction was almost at a standstill until the vehicle could be moved. The courthouse annex should be completed sometime this fall. The granite is being used to face the north side of the structure.

CAROL CUTBIRTH
WTSU REPRESENTATIVE

by Troy Martin

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Texas has some of the most hypocritical liquor laws in the world.

The people of Texas piously voted down Governor John Connally's liquor by the drink proposal. Yet, right here in Canyon there are places where liquor can be sold legally by the drink to a designated few.

In Hereford there are eleven establishments at which liquor can legally be sold by the drink. I'd hate to have to count the number of such places in Amarillo.

There are so many liquor by the drink houses in Hereford that the Texas Liquor Control Board has seen fit to station a resident agent there. And Deaf Smith is a dry county.

Texas law now stipulates that it is legal to carry a full bottle of liquor but unlawful to transport a bottle on which the seal has been broken. This encourages some who might take a social nip to guzzle the whole bottle and take to the highway as drunk as the proverbial boiled owl.

Local option is another farce promoted by those who think that if they can just keep all the drinking over the hills and far away that the teen agers somehow will remain as pure as vestal virgins.

In dry Olton--a town of 2,000--there were once some half-dozen bootleggers who sold to all comers, drunk and sober, adult and minor without fear of having their licenses revoked because they were operating without licenses anyway.

Were it not for the proximity of wet Amarillo, I dare say that dry Canyon would be teeming with bootleggers right now.

The fact of the matter is that there are very few communities that want to be REALLY dry. In most dry communities the bootlegger is a well known and welcome, if not respected, member of society.

Treatment of the bootlegger under Texas statute is ample proof that a majority of Texans appreciate his services. Punishment for conviction of selling liquor illegally in this state amounts to little more than a license fee.

In 1948 I moved from a job on The Borger News-Herald to "dry" Oklahoma and was surprised to find that Lawton had more gin mills than rip roaring Borger.

In fact the city of Lawton had the only night court I ever covered as a police reporter. Night court was necessary to handle the traffic of drunks lest the city jail become over crowded with them.

If the people of Texas want a dry state, this newspaper will do its best to support their decision although I do not think it would work.

But for goodness sakes, let's stop the hypocrisy.

I don't think it is right to franchise a bootlegger with a token fine while we congratulate ourselves on what a fine group of moralists we are.

And I can't see the morality in a law that says it's perfectly legal for few to belly up to the country club bar and order their favorite poison while a laborer has to swill his from a bottle, being careful that the bottle is empty before he moves along lest he wind up in the toils of the law for transporting it illegally. . . .

A 110-pound youngster is in Randall County jail at the moment doing three months for assaulting hulking, 220-pound Highway Patrolman James Cadhead. He recently told a jail visitor he should have pleaded not guilty.

"No," replied the visitor, "you should have pleaded insanity."

MISS AGNES CHARLTON

Funeral Rites Set Today For Miss Charlton

Funeral services for Agnes Adaline Charlton, 75, will be conducted today, Thursday, at 4 p.m. in LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Canyon.

Miss Charlton, a retired Spanish and French teacher from West Texas State University, died July 9 at North-west Texas Hospital in Amarillo. She had been hospitalized since May 26.

She was born March 14, 1893 in Taylorville, Illinois and moved to Canyon in 1925 from Clarendon. She earned the B.A. degree from West Texas State College in 1925 and the M.A. from the University of Texas in 1927. She did additional studies at WTSU and Colorado University. She formerly taught public school at Dalhart and Texhoma, Oklahoma on the high school level and taught in the elementary grades at Comanche, Quanah, San Antonio and Amarillo.

A member of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon, Miss Charlton was also active in the Daughter's of the American Revolution and the Canyon chapter of the American Association of University Women. Rev. Baldwin J. Stribling, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon, will conduct the funeral rites. Interment will be at Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Home of Canyon.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Kathryn Wise of Amarillo; a brother, Gordon Charlton of San Angelo; a niece and three nephews.

Our World

so we are--if we are productive members of society.

White people provided separate schools and churches for the black community--not just because the white community wanted it that way, but because the vast majority of Negroes preferred their own institutions with their own leadership and their own customs. (Remember the striking Negro students in the North who demanded segregated housing, Negro teachers, African history, and "chitlins"?)

But what about the American Indian? Yes, Indians have suffered abuses at the hands of white man. But they have surely gained more than they lost.

The advent of white men found the majority of Indian tribes warring on each other. Many of them lived in constant fear. Indian babies were not allowed to cry, lest the noise alert a savage enemy who might annihilate the entire tribe.

Starvation was the usual winter companion of the nomadic Indians, and even the domestic tribes often suffered from malnutrition.

Unfortunatley, many Indians currently live on barren reservations where they cannot possibly earn a livelihood. But they have a choice of remaining on the reservations and being fed by a benevolent government, or going where they please, and earning their own living.

Indians have died of starvation by the thousands in Mexico and in many parts of South America. Have they starved here?

Of course, there is malnutrition in the United States. Some of it is found among the "best" families where children are allowed to exist on cokes and candy while nourishing food is plentiful.

There is no question about malnutrition among the "poor" families. But why? Who has not encountered recipients of the surplus food program who were selling "government" butter, milk, and cheese for cash to be used to purchase cigarettes and liquor?

The Aid to Dependent Children program was launched with the best of intentions, but it has spawned all kinds of evil, and has probably hurt more children than it has helped.

Prior to ADC, many unwanted children were simply abandoned; usually they found refuge in foster homes or good orphanages. Now many ungodly mothers keep their unwanted children for one reason only: a government check. The most benevolent government cannot compensate for negligent parents.

Who ever heard of Oriental Americans crying "discrimination," demanding a handout, or asking for ADC? Why not? Our Orientals have merited our respect; they earn their own bread; and they take care of their own children.

If anyone in this country is HONESTLY in need, he has only to communicate his condition to the nearest church, and his needs will be cared for (1 Thessalonians 3:10).

What has Atheism ever done to improve the lot of mankind? Certainly not all Americans are Christians, but the U. S. has been "salted" by Christian principles, and that "salt" cleansed, flavored, and preserved our nation into the best society this world has ever known.

It is creeping Atheism that has polluted our beloved nation. Our federal assistance programs--divorced from Christian charity and local controls--have become a sprawling, chaotic, inefficient maze of vice and graft.

Our greatest thinkers are crying out for a return to God as the only salvation of our country--and the world. If this nation "under God" tolerates atheism flooding its airwaves, does it deserve to be saved?

Adams Quits As Patrolman

Roy Adams, Canyon Police patrolman for two years, has resigned.

Adams, a spring semester graduate of West Texas State University, will begin training later this month with the Department of Public Safety in Austin.

A training school for 120 new DPS patrolmen will begin July 30.

Yankees Randall County Champions

Regular season play ended Tuesday night, and when the dust had cleared, the Yanks were perched atop the standings as champions of the Randall County Little League.

In two pressure-packed games with the dangerous Dodgers, the Yankees showed their championship prowess by winning both encounters and advancing to the championship sporting a record of 12-4.

With the completion of the regular season play, the League will now begin All-Star competition. Members of the All-Star team are: Gary Bednorz, Jeff Carlile, Andy Cooper, Doug Day, Mark Freeman, Marc Guy, Scott Keeling, Kenny Kiker, Steve King, Ed Lair, Rex McPherson, Wayne Pitt, Maurice Whittenburg, Lynn Wright. Coaches for the All-Stars are Dick Dawdy and Duane Guy. Brad Garner will be the alternate team member.

The area Little League tournament will be conducted in Canyon, with teams from Dimmitt, Castro County, Hereford and the local entrant. The playoff schedule is as follows: Monday July 15, 6:00 p.m. Castro Co. vs. Dimmitt. 8:00 p.m. Hereford vs. Canyon. Tuesday, July 16, 7:00 p.m. winners of Monday's games will meet for the championship. The winner in Canyon will advance to regional play to be held in Borger.

Final season standings:

CB Group To Host Jamboree

The first annual Texas CB Radio national jamboree will be held today through Sunday at the Student Union Building of West Texas State University in Canyon.

More than 3,500 CB radio operators from as far as Canada are expected for the jamboree which will include a talent show, two Bell Telephone films, two dances, a Swap-Festival, workshops on various phases of CB radio, a social Thursday, and a first aid and safety film seminar.

Sunday's schedule includes a business meeting, devotional service and an awards assembly. Featured at the jamboree will be commercial displays by major electronic equipment firms.

Other featured activities include an organizational meeting to form plans for a statewide CB Association, an assembly discussing the highway emergency locating plan which is sponsored by the Automobile Manufacturers Association, a business meeting with Demco Electronics president, G. R. Marschner of Bristol, Indiana, presiding.

Joe Stephens of Canyon is director of the jamboree. The Canyon CB club will host the jamboree with assistance from Sherman Dixon of Denver, Colorado, Joe Greer of Amarillo and members of the Texas Jamboree Association.

Open to the public as well as CB radio operators, admission will be $2 for four days of $1.50 for the first day and 35 cents for succeeding days.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone OLS-2141, or stop by the News office on the west side of the square.

All-Stars Lose 8-2

Canyon's Babe Ruth All-Star team lost to powerful Pampa in its first outing in the District 18 Babe Ruth Tournament being conducted this week in Pampa.

The Canyon nine was scheduled to play the loser of the Dumas-Olton game at 6:00 Wednesday and if victorious, will face either Plainview or Pampa in the championship game at 6:00 p.m. Thursday.

In Monday's game, Pampa won by a score of 8-2, on the strength of 8 hits to only 5 for Canyon. Jerry Mariner was the losing pitcher.

The winner of the district tournament will advance to the state tourney to be held July 22 and 23.

The tournament is a double elimination affair.

CHARLIE DONNELL is shown examining a map of the highways and avenues in Canyon at a meeting here Monday of several merchants who have business establishments near 23rd Street. The group, that named Donnell chairman, passed a resolution thanking Canyon City Commissioners for rescinding earlier action that would have allowed for left-turn indicators on 23rd Street and Second, Fourth and Fifth Avenues.

Three Considerations

by Leigh Carter

Is there any particular approach to designing a hairstyle? "It got to a point where I had to get a haircut or a violin."

--Franklin Delano Roosevelt, recalling his boyhood.

Yes, there is a particular approach to hairstyling. In fact, there are three principle ones. They are hair texture, growth of hair pattern and facial structure.

A stylist must select the style most flattering to the client. The texture of the hair must be thoroughly examined. the idiosyncracies of the general growth pattern must be considered.

Does the client's hair grow fast? Does it grow one way or another? Has it a tendency toward waving?

A combination of clippers, shears and razor is often used for styling.

Good-looking and easy-to-keep styles are the aim of modernists.

Watch Next Week For "Styles"

Each week, LEIGH CARTER is pleased to bring you "MEN'S HAIR STYLING". I offer you complete services with expert hair styling, shampoos and razor cutting.

I look forward to serving you at Buffalo Barber Shop, 2319 4th, OLS-3742. Call me for evening appointments.

WT News Director John C. Donovan

Appointment of John C. Donovan, 43, as director of public news information for West Texas State University was announced Monday by Dr. James P. Cornette, university president.

Donovan is the first director of the newly established office, Dr. Cornette said. Initially, he will also be responsible for the university's sports information program, succeeding Tom Drew who resigned.

Establishment of a public news center for the university has been long over-due, Dr. Cornette said. He added the university's Committee of 67 in its reports pointed up the need for such a center.

Donovan, a third generation newspaperman, comes to the university after 17 1/2 years with the Associated Press in Des Moines, Iowa, and Dallas bureaus. He was AP state editor in Iowa before transferring to the Dallas bureau in 1965.

He has covered major intercollegiate athletic events in four major conferences in the Midwest and the Southwest. He was assistant sports information director at the University of Nebraska for three years before joining the Associated Press in January 1951 in Des Moines.

A native of Indianapolis, Ind., Donovan was reared in Nebraska and attended the University of Nebraska. He began a sports writing career at the age of 15 on the Nebraska State Journal in Lincoln. He was night sports editor before leaving for World War II Army service three years later.

Part of his Army service in Europe was spent on Stars & Stripes, the Army daily newspaper, on the cable and copy desks and later as sports editor of editions published in Paris and Germany.

He is married to the former Nell Holliday, a North Carolinian, who is involved in women's physical education, having taught at the University of Nebraska, Drake University and Southern Methodist University.

They have three children, Karen, 18; Terri, 16; and Jack, 11.

Punishment Of Crime Solution

Enforcement of laws already on the books will do more to curb violence than any new gun legislation in the opinion of Randall County Sheriff L.

L. S. "SLIM" JOHNSTON
S. "Slim" Johnston.
"I can't see how taking guns away from the people would help," said Johnston. "If I were a criminal I wouldn't turn my gun in. I'd keep it and hide it and use it when I wanted to. That would leave only one person with a gun--the criminal."

Johnston warned that as long as this country is lax in its punishment of those who possess guns illegally, the criminal will continue to have access to guns.

"What good does it do to assess a fine?" the sheriff asked. "If we catch a criminal with a gun he pays a $25 to $50 fine at the most and then he's gone."

"I think we should enforce laws we have already and even make it a felony to carry a concealed weapon."

Johnston pointed out that there is a law against possession of firearms in Britain but that a man who kills with a gun goes to prison and stays in prison.

"That's the reason it works over there," he declared.

Johnston said he doesn't see anything wrong with requiring that guns be registered.

"I don't like mail order guns," he said. "People who deal in guns should have excellent records. But I can't see how taking guns away would help."

"I do think people should use more care with their firearms," the sheriff added.

Rotarians Governor To Visit Here

Dr. Jack Rodgers of Odessa, Governor of Rotary District 873, will visit with the Canyon Rotary Club and its president, Gordon Downing Monday and Tuesday.

Dr. Rodgers will address the local club, which is one of 47 clubs in his district, and will discuss with club officials for information on the group's plan of service activities emphasizing the theme of Rotary International "Participation" and the district theme of "More Rotary Information".

He is one of 288 Rotary governors in all parts of the world serving Rotary international in districts with local clubs.

While in Canyon, Dr. Rodgers will be entertained with a salad supper at 6 p.m. July 15 at the American Legion Hall by Canyon Rotarians and their Rotary Anns.

At 7:30 p.m. Monday, Dr. Rodgers will preside at a Club Assembly at the First National Bank Room. Mrs. Rodgers and the Rotary Anns of Canyon will visit the Canyon Art Gallery.

Dr. Rodgers will address the Canyon Rotary Club at its regular meeting Tuesday noon.

posed any further delay in installation of the left-turn indicators, said he felt the issue would be a "dead duck" if no decision was made until fall. Association members Monday indicated they felt the widening of Third and Fifth Avenues would perhaps solve the problem of parking and traffic control along 23rd Street.

"Let's try to work with them and do what is best for the town," Bud Butler said of the city commissioners.

"Every time we asked the mayor what had been done, he said he didn't understand," declared D. R. Erskine, adding that the traffic was only congested for about 15 minutes at Fourth and 23rd Street during the noon hour.

"I think the commission is trying to help us," offered Jim Blake.

As for proposing any further resolutions to take to city fathers, Francis Shell said he felt the association would be unwise to "back them into a corner where they would have to make a decision now."

The group indicated they would meet later for further discussions as to improving traffic situations near 23rd Street.

her visitor's visa and could not return to US soil.

Mrs. Lawson described the incident.

"Lois (Mrs. Kinker) and I were walking together, and the boys were walking together," she related. "The American guard looked at me and said, 'What are you?' I said, 'German'. He said, 'Let me see your passport.' Then he sent me back to the guard post and told me I would have to stay in Mexico. I started to cry. I told him my husband had to get back home to work. He said he didn't care that the immigration office would be closed until Monday."

That was Friday afternoon. Mexican offices also were closed and there was nowhere to appeal. The Kinkers had to return to Amarillo. Mrs. Lawson remained at the guard post while Terry crossed into El Paso for their luggage.

Friday night was a night which the Lawsons will long remember. They stayed at what they described as one of the filthiest motels in Juarez.

The couple spread towels across the bed because the bed clothes obviously had not been changed for some time. There was no indoor plumbing and a group of drunks played cards by the light of a street lamp just outside their window all night.

"I was afraid to death," declared Mrs. Lawson in her charming continental accent.

Next day the Lawsons moved to a better motel. "It was nice," said Mrs. Lawson, "and we met the nicest boy." The young Mexican they met was Fernando Solis.

Solis took the youngsters sight seeing and to a bull fight Sunday.

At the US Immigration Service office Monday, Mrs. Lawson was told that she must stay in Mexico three months. Mrs. Lawson wept again.

At last she was issued a written consent to travel through the US to Canada where there was a possibility that the Canadians might accept her.

By bus the Lawsons returned to Canyon and began packing for their trip across the country. They were given until July 20 to report to the US Immigration Office in Seattle, Wash., and to provide proof of Mrs. Lawson's departure from the United States.

They arrived back here early Tuesday.

Tuesday afternoon they told their story to a Canyon News reporter. News Publisher Troy Martin immediately called the US Immigration and Naturalization Service Office in Dallas and laid the Lawson's predicament before John W. Denton.

Denton was kindly and understanding. He pointed out that officials on the border handle such a profusion of cases each day that they must go strictly according to the book.

He gave Mrs. Lawson assurance that she would not be forced out of the country.

He instructed Martin to forward Mrs. Lawson's visa, the travel permit issued at the Mexican border and proof of her marriage to Lawson. The Lawsons were married here last November and a certified copy of their wedding certificate was forwarded along with the other necessary documents.

Denton said he would send along papers for the Lawsons to sign which would not only provide for her permanent residence in this country as the wife of an American national but would also pave the way for her to become an American citizen after elapse of sufficient time.

"I am so relieved," declared Mrs. Lawson with her first wan smile in five days.

tions and six from rear-end collisions.

The same basic figures are applicable to Fifth Avenue where 18 accidents were investigated and three injuries were involved. Property damage was set at $5,060. Six of the wrecks were said to have been caused by turning violations and 12 from rear-end collisions.

Diagrams made by local law enforcement officers at many of the wreck scenes indicate several of those vehicles involved in rear-end collisions were waiting to make left turns.

CPD Chief Calvin Costley said there was an ever-increasing number of accidents on 23rd Street that can be directly attributed to turning violations.

He pointed out that the traffic laws stipulate vehicles are not allowed to stop mid-way into an intersection waiting for traffic to clear before turning left.

Motorists are allowed to stop only where they wait for a red light and not within the confines of the intersection, he explained.

"They (traffic accidents on 23rd Street) are getting progressively worse," Costley said. "It will be really bad in the fall when West Texas State University classes are in session."

Costley, who said 633 citations had been issued here since Jan. 1, estimated 90 per cent of the traffic tickets were for those involved in moving violations.

While there were as high as 21 accidents on one avenue that intersects with 23rd Street, Costley said there were three at First Avenue and property damage was estimated at $1,150. Of six accidents at Eighth Avenue and 23rd Street, property damage was set at $3,050.

Accidents between intersections on 23rd Street since the first of this year have totaled 13, Costley said.

College officials earlier this year indicated they expect between 200 and 300 more vehicles on campus this fall than last fall.

To accommodate an increased amount of college traffic on city streets when it was learned the campus would be closed to non-student traffic, commissioners in 1967 approved Fifth Avenue as a one-way going west. Later they rescinded their resolution and designated Fifth Avenue as a one-way going east.

Still later in 1967 city dads heard objections to the one-way streets from several business places and changed the flow of traffic back to two-way. While the commission agreed to again discuss the one-ways later in 1967, the matter has not been mentioned since earlier last year.

Commissioners last week said they would wait until fall when WTSU classes are in session to make an independent traffic survey as to the need for left-turn indicators on 23rd Street, but Mayor Lindsey said the action would make the issue a "dead duck".

Under the proposal earlier approved by city dads, two-way left turn indicators would be installed at Second and Fifth Avenues and a four-way indicator would be installed at the intersection of Fourth Avenue and 23rd Street. The left-turn land striping would remove much of the parking spaces for about one-half block each way at the intersections involved.

Teachers Attend Newspaper Meet

Seventy eight teachers from throughout the tri-state area attended a three-day seminar here this week at West Texas State University entitled "The Living Textbook".

The three days of study, sponsored by the Globe News Publishing Company of Amarillo, is held here annually to stress the use of the daily newspaper in the classroom.

Special speakers for the seminar included Dr. Lee Williamson, assistant superintendent of instruction in the Amarillo Public Schools; James J. Kilpatrick, nationally-known Washington, D. C. columnist; Ned Riddle, syndicated cartoonist; and Mrs. Hope Shackelford, an English teacher from Wichita, Kans. Other speakers included representatives from the newspaper publishing company in Amarillo.

In addition to the speakers, panel discussions and other activities, the teachers were taken Monday to a production of "TEXAS" in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Parallel Terraces Helpful On Farm

Practices installed through local soil and water conservation districts have revolutionized farming but now the requirements for large scale farming with big machinery are revolutionizing conservation planning and farm layout, a Randall County agriculturist has stated.

"Terraces snaking across the hillside could be farmed well enough with small equipment," said John O'Conner, with the Soil Conservation Service here. "The crooked, irregular rows were worrisome but posed no serious problem, but times have changed."

"Today," O'Conner continued, "the farmer wants to farm in a conservation pattern, but he wants that pattern to be as modern as his equipment. This calls for a high degree of perception and skill on the part of conservationists and other technicians who help the farmer."

The irregular areas that formerly existed between every pair of terraces are now found in just a few terrace intervals, he explained. There they may be farmed in point rows or planted to a sown crop.

"This innovation has reduced the temptation to plant or plow over the terraces, and destroy them," O'Conner declared.

The design for other farms is undergoing a transition, too, he continued.

There will be new drainage ditches to conform to the new field arrangement. Open irrigation ditches may give way to underground pipelines to save space and remove obstructions and even the surface of the land may be given a major treatment of leveling.

"Field arrangement is just as important to the modern farmer on sloping uplands as it is to flatland farmers," he said. "Good deep soil is just as important, too. All of this adds up to a better conservation program."

O'Conner pointed out that in McAdoo, a small town in the northwest corner of Dickens County, farmers during the past two years have built about one-half million feet of parallel terraces and another 200 acres of land have been leveled.

Rains totaling 12 inches fell on some of the McAdoo terraces in August of 1966, O'Conner said, and none of them broke and there was very little damage to crops.

O'Conner noted that about 23,000 feet of parallel terracing was built in Randall County this year.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Bureau of Mines, Helium Activity, contracts with West Texas State University were inked here recently. The pact stipulates terms under which WTSU will provide computer facilities required for scientific and technical work of the Helium Activity. On hand for the signing were Gerald Grout, left, a representative of the Helium Activity, Durwood Henderson, head of the computer center, and Virgil Henson, WTSU Financial Vice President. The yearly grant for the service is about $70,000.

District Posses Elect Miss Allen

Miss Janice Leigh Allen was elected as Queen of District II of the American Association of Sheriff's Posses and Riding Clubs last week in Amarillo.

Miss Allen, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Allen, was in competition with 5 other club queens from throughout District II which is composed of the Texas Panhandle from north of Plainview.

She is also club queen for the Randall County Sheriff's Posse here.

Miss Allen was presented with a trophy and a dozen red roses after being named district queen. She will represent the district at a variety of events throughout the year. She will represent District II in queen competition for national this fall.

A senior at Canyon High School this fall, Miss Allen began competitive riding in the Junior Horseman's Association here in 1961 and is a charter member of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse. She has been active in the riding club since it was organized in 1960.

Miss Allen holds the district record in pole bending and has qualified to compete in the National Finals Playday for 3 years. She rides a 7-year-old registered quarter horse "Stubble" which she trained herself.

A past member of the Junior National Honor Society, Miss Allen is a member of the Canyon High School chapter of National Honor Society. She is a former member of the Future Homemakers of America, a member of the Future Teachers Association and a member of the Canyon Order of the Rainbow for Girls. She played varsity basketball for two years at CHS and was named "most valuable guard" as a freshman basketball player.

RED ROSES, a trophy and engraved belt buckle were the awards presented to Janice Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Allen, when she was named as District II Queen of the American Association of Sheriff's Posses and Riding Clubs in events last week. Miss Allen, who was in competition as the queen for the Randall County Sheriff's Posse, will now advance to the national queen's contest this fall.

MRS. MICHAEL HERBERT KUHLMAN

Miss Bailey-Kuhlman United In Ceremonies

Miss Donna Kay Bailey became the bride of Michael Herbert Kuhlman in ceremonies July 1 at St. Paul Lutheran Church of Canyon with Rev. Samuel H. Nafzger officiating at the single ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bert Bailey of Amarillo and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Kuhlman of Canyon.

"The 23rd Psalm" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Gene Bartlett with Carol Lynn, organist, accompanying. The candlelight ceremony was performed in the altar area which was lined with aisle candelabra and spiral candelabra at the front. A large bouquet of turquoise and white carnations accented the altar.

Cindy Kuhlman, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and Linda Thompson was matron of honor. They wore A-line empire styled dresses of turquoise with green bows in front and back and carried nosegays of turquoise carnations.

Jack Bailey and Gary Kuhlman were candlelighters. Kathy Bailey and Patricia Bailey alternated at the bride's table where individual rice bags were displayed in an open umbrella.

Herbert F. Kuhlman, father of the bridegroom, served as best man and Butch Bailey, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushers were Clinton Tuck, David Albers and Jim Albers, all of Canyon.

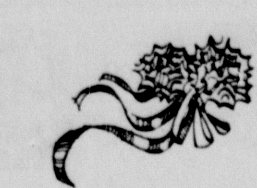

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of imported organza over taffeta fashioned with the bodice and sleeves of

Rileys Have Infant Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Bob E. Riley announce the June 27 birth of a daughter, Lisa D'Ann, who weighed 8 pounds 3 ounces on arrival at Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gladman of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Riley of Wheeler.

The infant's father is a teacher at Canyon Junior High School.

Morning Ceremonies Unite Bowe-Colson

Miss Janice Irita Bowe and John Robert Colson were united in marriage in a morning ceremony July 8 at the home of the bride's mother, 1818 Third Avenue in Canyon.

Officiating at the double ring rites was Gordon Downing, Church of Christ Bible Chair director at West Texas State University.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Colson of Wellington.

Neil McCarley, cousin of the bride from Happy, sang "Whither Thou Goest" accompanied by Mrs. Darrell Bowe, sister-in-law of the bride from Houston.

Given in marriage by her brothers, Darrell Bowe of Houston and Gary Bowe of Lubbock, the bride wore a floor length gown of imported chantilly lace and tulle with a bustle effect in back. The bodice was fashioned with a jeweled Sabrina neckline. Her veil of illusion was held to a tiara of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Gary Bowe of Lubbock, served as matron of honor. She wore an A-line dress fashioned of primrose yellow dotted swiss with a wide jewel neckline. The dress had full-length shirt sleeves gathered into self cuffs. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white and yellow daisies.

Best man was William Colson of Wellington, brother of the bridegroom. Flower girls were Dene' Bowe of Lubbock and Jana Bowe of Houston, nieces of the bride. Ring-bearers were Shawn Bowe of Lubbock and Tim Bowe of Houston, nephews of the bride.

The bride's home was also the site for the reception where Mrs. Ross Davis of Austin and Mrs. J. B. McCarley of Happy, aunts of the bride, were included in the houseparty. Serving at the bride's table were Miss

Too little knowledge has always been a danger and there are too many people with insufficient knowledge, who are quick to offer advice about what to do for almost any sickness. Often well meaning friends will offer you drugs Doctors have prescribed for them, because their symptoms resemble your problem. In days long past, no harm usually was done. We had few positive action drugs.

Medicines now are usually much more powerful. They no longer, as a rule, are the old type of many ingredient combinations, given with the hope that one of the different drugs will help. Please do not offer your friends any medicine you take yourself unless their doctor approves. It is possible to harm instead of help.

R. Gardner Gets Honor

Richard Gardner has been named as a Distinguished Student for the spring semester at Texas Maritime Academy, a branch of Texas A & M University.

Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gardner of Canyon, graduated from Canyon High School in 1967. His recognition as a Distinguished Student was noted for academic performance during the spring semester. Gardner is presently on a summer cruise with the Maritime Academy.

Four Special Courses Are Scheduled At WT

Four special three-week courses in education and educational administration, each granting three semester hours of graduate credit, will be offered during the second summer final examinations. A class in "The Kindergarten Curriculum" will be offered the last three weeks of the term, Aug. 5-Aug. 23, by the department of educational administration. Teachers must enroll for the class at the regular registration period Monday and Tuesday to receive credit and to be enrolled for the class, according to Dr. Ruth Lowes, head of the department of education and psychology.

Teachers for the course will be Dr. Juanita Lewis, professor of education at Colorado State College, and Mrs. Geneva Jones of the Amarillo Public Schools. The class is designed for Head-start teachers and teachers in private kindergartens.

Scheduled for the first three weeks of the second term are

Canyon Legion Nine Sports 8-3 Record

The Canyon American Legion won only one of three games last week, but remained only 1/2 game behind Tascosa in the Legion South Zone baseball race. Canyon, with losses to Tascosa and Hereford and a victory over Tulia, extended its record to 8-3.

Canyon fell victim to the two-hit pitching of Jack Pierce in the 4-0 loss to the Tascosa Sheriffs. Jim Albracht had a home run for Tascosa in the third inning to provide the winning run. Tascosa added three insurance runs, two in the sixth and one in the seventh. Canyon pitchers Lynn Salmon and Lynn Noel limited Tascosa to only six hits in the nine inning contest.

In the game at Hereford with the score tied 9-9 going into the bottom of the seventh, Jim Loewald singled, was bunted to second, and scored the winning run for Hereford on a single by Paul Loerwald. The call at the plate for the winning run was disputed as were other calls during the game. Canyon had 10 hits in the game with Galen Davis delivering a home run. Hereford also had 10 hits, but scored seven runs in the third inning on five walks and two hits. Lynn Betts was the winning pitcher for Hereford, and Lynn Salmon was tagged with the loss in relief.

At Tulia, it required ten innings, 29 runs, and 33 hits for Canyon to finally edge Tulia, 15-14. In the top of the tenth, the deciding run scored for Canyon when Max Bosley doubled home Frank Belcher. John Teters was the winning pitcher and had four hits for Canyon.

Canyon, now 8-3, can clinch at least a tie for second place with a win over Clarendon. The top two teams in the South Zone will play the top two teams in the North Zone for the district championship.

Language Professor To Teach In France

Dr. Ed Brown, assistant professor of modern languages at West Texas State University for a year, left Canyon this week for Evian, France where he will teach French to American students traveling abroad.

Dr. Brown, who received B.A. from Whittier, Calif. and his M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Arizona in Tucson, will be teaching French to American students in a Foreign Language League Schools-sponsored summer program.

The study group, which will include 280 students being taught by four American and four European instructors, will tour Paris, London, Amsterdam, Brussels and Geneva before going to the School located on Lake Geneva.

Dr. Brown, who returned last year from Central America where he was traveling by banana boat, plane and automobile, has worked as an interpreter for the State Department in Washington where he was required to pass an oral fluency test as one of the qualifications before going into government work.

Dr. Brown, who said he would like to travel abroad each summer to increase his knowledge of modern languages as well as learn the customs and traditions of foreign nations, explained that the Foreign Language League School was non-profit and is based in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Each of the students in the program pays about $750 for seven weeks of training.

Dr. Brown indicated he would return to Canyon sometime in early September.

Solving Local Problems

City Master Plan

A city exists to give service to its people, but in order to provide these services, long-term programming is often necessary and important for the proper physical growth and development. To determine what services a city should provide, estimates must be made of the future prospects of the city in terms of population, economic growth, and capital improvements. The following principal elements help make up a comprehensive plan; therefore, the city commission of Canyon has determined that the following long-range services complement the city's proposed economic and physical development and have taken strides to accomplish these needs.

Zoning

The big role of planning and zoning is to determine the highest and best use of property. The purpose of zoning districts within the city are to lessen the congestion in the streets; to secure safety from fire, panic and other dangers; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent the overcrowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage, schools, parks and other public requirements.

Subdivision Regulations

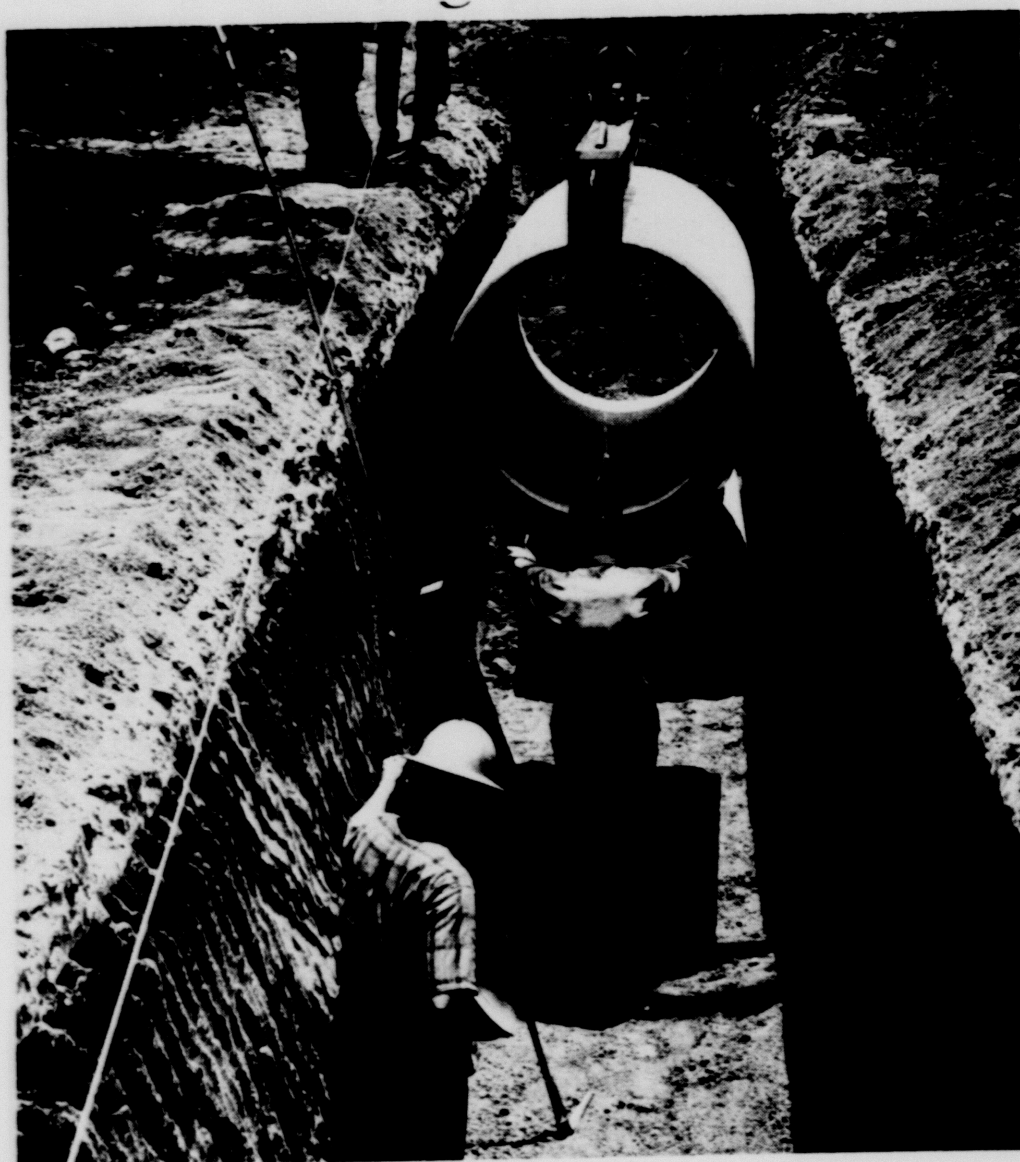

As raw land is developed into new subdivision, the nature and extent of their development, including easements, right-of-ways, and public dedications are made available to the city. In return, the city will furnish construction estimates and engineering supervision to insure the proper installation of public utilities. A map will be prepared showing the total area of land subdivided, the total number of lots, the areas of land and lots made available for each of the major types of land use, the number of lots of each class sold, and the number of these lots used and for what purpose.

Land Use And Economic Study

The information collected for this study will include such data as the use of all land not built upon; location and extent of vacant land; location, condition, and use of all buildings; vacancies and occupancy; rent; number of families in each residential building and in each dwelling unit, and many other matters.

Thoroughfare Plan

A study of the type of thoroughfares, the traffic flow on the principal thoroughfares, automobile parking in all business districts, transportation lines, and transit facilities will be of special value in analyzing the proper functioning of a traffic system in Canyon.

—A Tribute To Progress—

Dear Citizens of Canyon.

Your City Commission is pleased to present this annual report on the progress made in your city in the past fiscal year.

We feel the progress that has been made with your assistance will speak for itself. It is our aim to continue to always strive for improvement and through your interest we will be assured of improving our Blue Ribbon City. By keeping us informed as to those ideas which you feel will help guide Canyon's growth in a safe and healthy manner, you would have contributed much towards the success of Canyon.

The objective of this report is to keep you informed and place emphasis on "where we have been, where we are now and where we are going." If we arouse your interest in the City of Canyon through this report then we would have in a small way accomplished our purpose.

Respectfully,
Paul E. Lindsey
Mayor

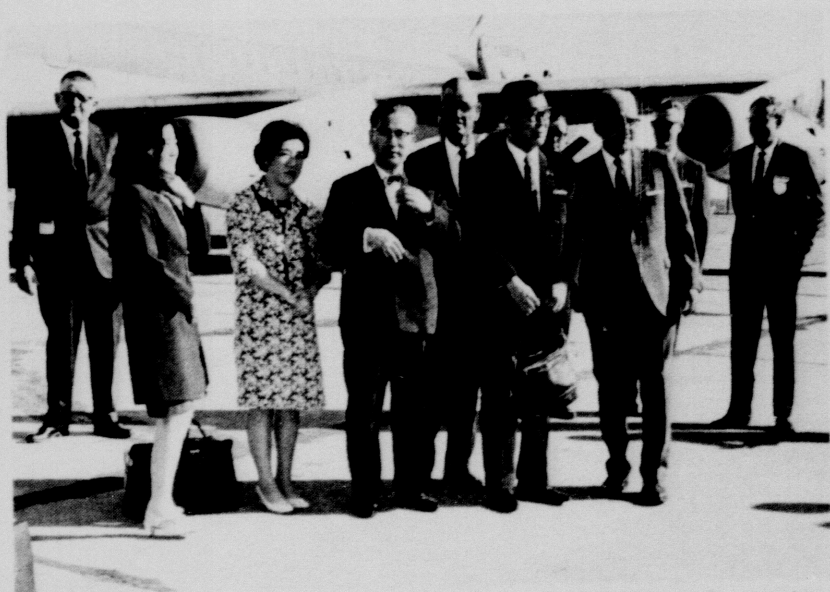

Of Excellence And Achievement

Minakami, Japan Canyon's Sister City

In separate ceremonies the cities of Minakami, Japan and Canyon, Texas have joined hands as sister cities. Through our sister city relationship we hope to extend our friendship and hospitality to all the citizens of Minakami. Also it is our hope to exchange ideas and thoughts on our culture, community and educational system.

Minakami, Japan is a beautiful city of 11,000 people and has an annual budget of $800,000. The economic base of Minakami is centered around agriculture and tourists who patronize the many health spas.

Pictured at the left is Mayor Mosaku Onozato of Minakami who is accepting the City of Canyon honorary plaque from Canyon's Mayor Paul Lindsey. Also accompanying Mayor Onozato were Mr. Shiro Takenaga, an industrialist, and the wife and daughter of Dr. Hajime Shimizu.

Mayor Onozato is presenting Mayor Lindsey with carp streamers which are flown annually on May 5 in Japan on National Boys Day. The streamers are significant of the way that youth grow.

West Texas Blue Ribbon City

The Blue Ribbon City award program, sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is a new merit program designed to develop a more pleasant and prosperous community life by raising standards of community facilities and services. To this end a practical and attainable set of standards was established to measure a first class community in the following six areas:

1. Beautification
2. Local Government
3. Education
4. Industrial Development
5. Parks and Recreation
6. Tourist Development

These six areas were considered to be the basic measurable elements of an overall economy.

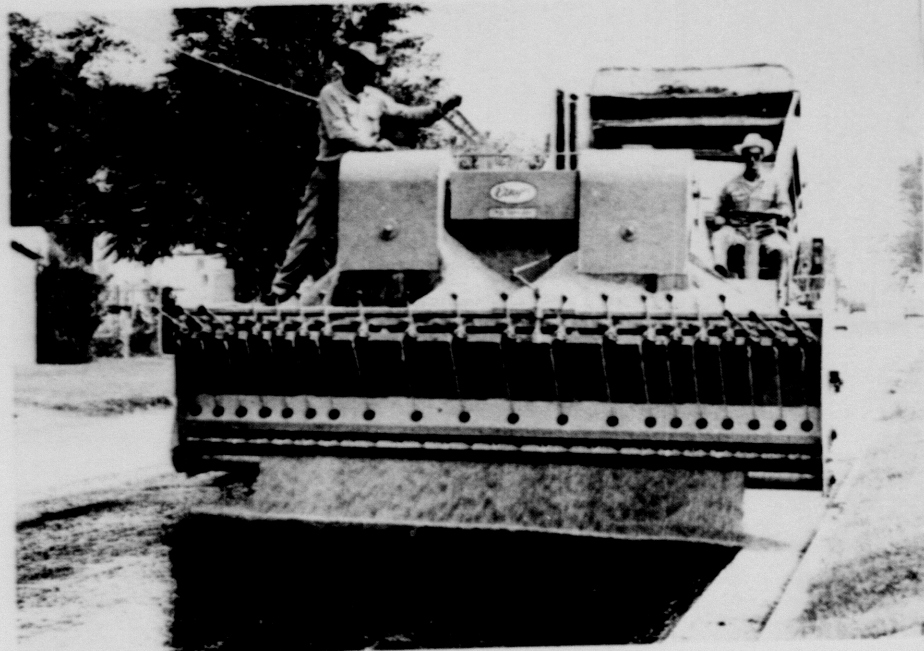

Designed for cities under 12,000 population, Canyon, Texas was among the first of five cities to be designated a West Texas Blue Ribbon City.

Building For Better Community Service

Water and Sewer Superintendent William Wieser prepares a trench to install a sewer line necessary to meet the rapid residential growth of the city.

Once a city street receives this seal coat preparation, an additional five years is added to its availability and use. Each year approximately fifty streets receive this coat of endurance.

This front-end loader has proven to be the most economical and efficient way of collecting commercial trash. The "Lodal" has more than tripled the collection rate in less time than its predecessor.

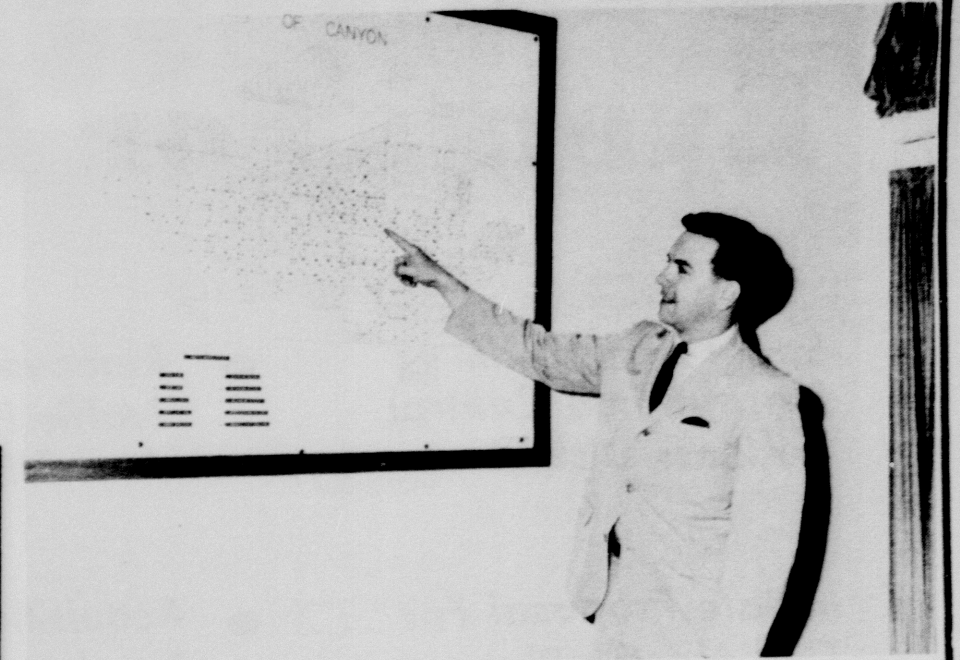

Fire fighting is our business! A total of 4,287 man hours were spent fighting fires in and around the Canyon area. The Canyon Fire Department extinguished fifty-one city fires for a low property value loss of $16,042.02.

Excellent training is always a deterrent to all phases of criminal activity. Here Police Officer Powers receives instructions on the proper firing stance from FBI training specialist Leo Roberson.

Children take their turn to ride the new spring action Buck-A-Bout. Efforts are being made to provide even more playground equipment and recreational activity for Canyon's leisure time.

City Hall is the central focal point for conducting the general operation of the City, and it is here that City Manager Paul Davis makes reference to a possible traffic hazard on the thoroughfare map.
